HONORED FOR WORK IN EDUCATION

STAR GAZE

While the world is watching Munich, nine-year-old Paul Hyde is dreaming of the 1984 Olympics...

Paul, of Fraser Ave., Altona West, is a runner of distinct promise.

He ran second recently in the under-nine 2000 metres event at the Victorian Little Athletics championships at Yarra Glen.

Paul is in sixth grade at Altona West Primary School and attends the Altona West Little Athletics Centre.

He is the son of Senior Detective Glen Hyde, of Footscray CID.

Four citizens who have given outstanding service to education in Altona, were presented with certificates of merit by the Mayor of Altona, Cr. Pat Lynch, last Sunday.

Cr. Lynch presented the certificates to Sister Luke, the former principal of St. Mary's Primary School; Mr. Jack Piggott who was president of Altona North Technical School Advisory Council, and Messrs. Keith Cameron and Steve Clement, chairman of the Brooklyn West Primary School and Altona North Primary School Advisory Councils respectively.

Sister Luke was principal of St. Mary's from 1967 to 1970. Her leadership and guidance assisted the development of that school to its present high standard.

Mr. Keith Cameron has been chairman of Brooklyn West Primary School Advisory Council since 1960 and Mr. Steve Clement has held the same position with Altona North Primary School Advisory Council since its inception in 1955.

The presentations by Cr. Lynch were made during an afternoon tea session at the mayoral chambers, following the opening of Altona's own Education Week.

Hot news around town still, is the bomb threat received by Altona Petrochemical Co. last week. APC management has put the threat down to a student prank. No chances were taken, however, as the complex put on full security on receipt of the phone call.

Altona councillors were taken on a brief trip around the world recently by Cr. Doug Grant who returned from a hectic six-week world tour. Cr. Grant described his business trip to councillors at a recent general meeting.

Kororoit Creek Road hit the headlines again during the weekend following another tragic accident on the strip between Grieve Parade and Millers Road. We urge Altona motorists to take the utmost care when driving along this dangerous stretch of road.

Heard through the grapevine that the three new shops in Pier Street are to be electrical, jewellery, drapery and soft-furnishing outlets.

Education Week in Altona has been a triumph for Altona Council but council lost a good opportunity to have the event televised on one of the Sunday magazines programmes.

UNION WANTS HOMES FOR THE AGED

The Australian Meat Industry Employees' Union wants to build homes for the aged in Altona.

In a recent letter to Altona Council, secretary of the AMIEU, Mr. G. Seelaf (pictured) said his union had decided to investigate the possibility of obtaining suitable land from Altona Council for this purpose.

Mr. Seelaf said that if land was available, the homes would be built under the Commonwealth Homes for the Aged scheme.

"The union has had discussions with the Department of Social Service and the committee of management of the union feels confident it will be able to comply with the requirements and regulations," said Mr. Seelaf.

"Should your council land available, I would be only too happy to arrange for discussions between a sub-committee set up by the union, and representatives of your council," he said.

"If the union is successful in obtaining land it is intended that preference would be given to Altona residents who are members or ex-members of the union," said Mr. Seelaf.

Questioned on the matter by the Star this week,

Town Clerk, Mr. Syd Fell said it was unlikely that council would have the land to give to the union.

And with the prospect of Housing Commission homes in the Paisley area, it seems unlikely that council will favor the request.

GEORGE SEELAF

Crossing danger report

The secretary of Paisley High School's Advisory Council has written to both Williamstown and Altona councils about the danger to pupils crossing Mason Street at the junction of Blenheim Road and Hansen Street.

Williamstown council last week adopted a motion by Cr. Jack Byron that the city engineer, Mr. J. Rees, reported to the traffic committee on what could be done to make the intersection safer.

He said the number of accidents at the corner was a great worry.

Trade fair is 'a boomer'

A trade fair, organised by Werribee Rotary Club, has attracted stands from manufacturers throughout the metropolitan area and Geelong.

This fair, which will be held at Centenary Hall, Werribee, from August 25-27, will feature electrical goods, vehicles, caravans, furniture, sporting goods, building materials, &c.

So enthusiastic has been the response of manufacturers, that the Rotary Club has obtained council's permission to close more than 100 yards of Wedge Street, adjacent to the hall, to accommodate the vehicle and caravan exhibits.

The fair, which falls within the school holiday period, provides parents with an ideal opportunity of giving children an inexpensive outing within easy reach of the western suburbs.

The Centenary Hall is only three minutes from Werribee station and trains run regularly. Car travellers will find the hall centrally located in the business area with plenty of parking available.

Meadows growing

Altona Council has applied to the Australian Post Office for provision of a public telephone and posting box in the Altona Meadows area.

There are now 20 homes in the area and a further 42 are under construction.

The motion for application for the facilities was moved by Cr. Les Crofts and seconded by Cr. Pat Burns at the recent general purposes committee meeting of council.

Council has agreed to leave the siting of the facilities to the Post Office.

She'll help you cope with baby

Sister Elizabeth Harper at the David Street Child Welfare Centre, Altona, has four convincing reasons why she is an expert at helping new mothers.

As well as plenty of experience at motherhood, she has a welfare certificate and is a trained midwifery sister.

"New mothers are really anxious to come to the centre as soon as they can," she said.

"The first thing they have to learn is the ability to tune in to her baby's needs.

"It's not easy to interpret baby's cry, to know if he cries from hunger or colic.

"I find that the young woman, who was an only child, has a harder time looking after her baby, than one who has had many younger brothers and sisters.

"She is not used to handling young children. But on the whole, most of them cope very well.

"I only wish I had done the infant training course before I had babies."

The David Street Centre is the oldest infant welfare Centre in Altona.

Sister Harper gives mothers advice about everything from feeding problems to discipline.

"The child who won't should be examined first to see there is nothing wrong physically.

"There should be no bribing and no force used.

"The child may regain interest in food if you don't serve the same meals. If he still refuses, just remove the meal quietly and don't offer food again until the next mealtime.

"The healthy child will get hungry..."

"You should discipline a child with love. He should know that you still love him, even if he misbehaves."

Sister Harper thinks it's advisable to let an older child know he is about to have a brother or sister before the mother goes to hospital.

"When mother goes to hospital, she should take a small gift for the other child when she comes home with the baby.

"Mothers should know they aren't quite themselves after they come home from hospital.

"Having a baby is a strain and it's hard to cope with a new baby.

"The mother suffers from a hormonal imbalance in many cases and it's a condition which takes a while to settle down.

"Mothers should remember it's not good to over-indulge a child..."

"What he needs is love and security and the kind of love that sees he doesn't come to any harm..."

'Little athlete' honored

Altona's silver medal winner in the recent Victorian Little Athletics cross country championship — under nine age group — Paul Hyde, and his parents, were guests at the meeting of Altona Council last week.

Wedding day...

They're noisy and unsafe

By Bill Ross

Considering their size, mini-bikes make an incredible amount of noise — a motor mower sounds like a cat purring in comparison.

The noise in the suburbs was bad enough when the motor-mower was invented, but this mini-bike nightmare must be trying the patience of the most placid.

Even one or two at work in the area seem to promote a hot tropical fever, as the sound they emit is something akin to a swarm of giant mosquitoes.

Now, even juveniles are adding to the staggering burden of noise pollution people are forced to bear.

The manufacturers who turned these objects loose on the public have committed a social crime of great magnitude.

There is simply no place for them.

They're too noisy for parks and gardens; cause problems of erosion on beaches; frighten birds and animals in sanctuaries and of course, they are not permitted to be ridden on roads and footpaths.

Apart from the noise, their most distressing deficiency is their lack of safe-acceleration control and a child who illegally ventures onto the road on one almost certainly becomes a statistic in the road toll.

Mini-bikes are symptomatic of the psychosocial malaise of the age.

It seems that many parents are conspiring to obliterate that part of life known as childhood. Their ultimate goal no doubt is the creation of 'mini-adults'.

Adults are to blame, because no child could afford to buy one of these out of his own pocket money. It is affluence bribing youth.

'Yes, I'll get you a mini-bike, son, so that I can be rid of you for a while and have some time for myself.'

It features that most sickening end of the acquisitive process — status.

You are an "in-kid" the moment you own one. If you don't you pester your parents until they 'come good'.

The roots of childish envy are to be found in adult behavior patterns.

Childhood can well do without mini-bikes — and society can too.

It needed 3 to subdue man, PC tells court

It took three policemen to subdue a North Altona man apprehended peeping over a fence, Williamstown Court was told last Thursday.

Charles Ferugia, 45, of Second Avenue, did not appear in court to answer a charge of having assaulted a policeman and two charges of having resisted arrest.

Senior Constable William Ritchie, of Newport police, told the court he was on patrol in the Newport area on July 24 when he saw Ferugia standing in a lane looking over the fence at a house.

Ferugia told him he wasn't doing anything — just going shopping.

Sen. Const. Ritchie said Ferugia's bicycle was leaning against the fence.

He asked him to come to the police station to explain what he had been doing looking over the fence, and Ferugia refused.

Sen. Const. Ritchie said Ferugia then pushed him in the chest, saying he wasn't going to the police station and all he wanted to do was go shopping.

Sen. Const. Ritchie produced a torn tie in court that he said Ferugia had torn from him during the scuffle that followed.

He said he eventually managed to get the handcuffs on Ferugia, but had to call for help from the police station to subdue him enough to get him into the back seat of the police car.

In a record of interview read to the court, Ferugia told police he struggled and fought because he did not want to go to the police station — all he wanted to do was go shopping.

He said he did not know the people who lived in the house he had been looking at.

He did not like the police and all he wanted to do was go shopping.

In reply to a question from Mr. H. Boarder SM, Sen. Const. Ritchie said there was no chance that Ferugia, who was of Maltese extraction, did not understand what was said to him.

Mr. Boarder said it was not a very serious case of assault and fined Ferugia $30 in default of six days' goal, with $1.35 costs for the torn tie.

He also found both cases of having resisted arrest proved and fined the defendant $20 on each charge, in default of four days' goal.

A.L.P. to look at station

Labor's State policy committee for environment is to undertake an urgent inquiry into the need to place a power station in Newport, an already polluted suburban area.

This follows an address to Altona A.L.P. branch by Mr. David Linke, of the Williamstown Conservation Society, outlining the known pollution problems which would be created by the new Newport power station.

Mr. Linke, speaking on the social costs of air pollution, posed the question: "How do you value human life? How do you measure the costs?" In describing how the various polluting gases in the air react with each other causing a loss in personal efficiency through a slowing of the brain process, decreased blood pressure, nausea, headaches, and possible lung disease.

Opposition to the proposed power station was increasing rapidly, he said, with Labor's shadow ministers Jack Wilton and Bob Fordham seeking action in parliament and all Labor's western suburbs branches joining with the Williamstown conservation society and the Port Phillip Conservation Council in a united front against the SEC.

Meanwhile the Amalgamated Metal Workers Union was also examining the case before bringing down a policy decision.

Unofficial probing within the SEC reveals that a site in the Werribee area may be re-considered if the opposition to Newport continues growing at the same rate.

Illegal fencing — council acts

Altona Council is taking legal action against a person who recently erected a fence across roads in the Altona Meadows area without council's permission to do so.

Reporting to council, Altona's Ranger, Mr. Bob Heyen, town clerk Mr. Syd. Fell said that in accordance with council instructions, council's legal advisers had been instructed to commence proceedings against the person.

Mr. Fell said it was noted that the fence was still in existence, although it had been reduced to ground level to enable council employees to proceed with drainage construction work.

Council also received a reply from Werribee Shire Council in relation to its request for attention to wandering stock problems in the shire which resulted in the services of

with the offending person. "I will advise you of any further action by this council at the appropriate time."

Youth arts festival from Meat Union

A Youth Arts Festival will be held in the Altona-Williamstown area in September.

The sponsor is the Australian Meat Industry Employees Union.

The Union is sponsoring the festival as its contribution towards the ACTU's Youth Week.

The Art Festival will be held daily from September 11 until September 15, in Williamstown Town Hall.

All schools in the Altona and Williamstown areas have been invited to attend the sessions, which cater from kindergarten to matriculants.

The union is presenting the Youths Arts festival concurrently in five different areas.

They are: Altona-Williamstown, Richmond-Collingwood, Springvale-Moorabbin and Broadmeadows.

ALL TYPES

The festival will include music of all types from classical to pop and is intended to give children in working class areas an opportunity to become involved in the Arts.

Mrs. Yvonne Smith of the AMIEU said that children in these areas often didn't get an opportunity to enjoy theatre and good music.

She said: "We want to make them aware of the arts so that not only will they become patrons of the arts as they grow older but also that they might become involved in certain aspects of it."

Mrs. Smith said that opportunities for the children to participate would be provided at some sessions.

CHILDREN

She added that all five areas had been chosen for the large numbers of children they contained.

"The response from the various schools has been very good and in some areas we have even had an overflow."

The festival has been sponsored by the Australian Council for the Arts to the tune of $2500.

The Australian Meat Employee Union is contributing a further $1400 and about $400 has been promised by different unions.

Several employers of the meat industry has also offered to help.

Assistant secretary of the union Mr. W. J. Crunhan has organised the festival.

Altona man is DLP choice

Mr. John Bacon (above) will contest the Labor seat as the Democratic Labor Party candidate in the Federal elections later this year.

Mr. Bacon is a married man with a young family. He has lived in the Altona electorate for 13 years.

Employed as an organiser, he takes an active interest in union affairs as a member of the Federated Clerks Union and has been a delegate to ACTU congresses.

Mr. Bacon, said he was standing again for Labor because he still believed the western area was entitled to a new deal.

After many years of A.O.P. representation, Labor suffered serious deficiencies, including the lack of a major hospital with adequate facilities for chronically ill people.

Know needs

He told the Star that those who live in Labor were aware of the need for a modern transport system and improved secondary education provisions for young people.

These requirements should be placed far ahead of the university which had been called for by the Labor academics who visited the electorate to address seminars from time to time.

In the 1969 Federal election, the DLP polled its highest percentage in Labor. In the forthcoming election the Labor DLP branches at Altona, Sunshine, Sunshine Heights, Ardeer, Deer Park and St. Albans were confident that the vote would be greatly increased.

People were tending to look for an alternative to the older parties in the fresh approach of the DLP.

THE STARS

ARIES — (March 21 - April 19): A period which has immense possibilities for anything connected with the romantic elements of life. For many Aries it will be a time for wedding bells, engagements and the solving of difficulties which hitherto defied solution. Favored shade: Gold, Recommended numbers: 5 and 7.

TAURUS — (April 20-May 20): A time when you should take a break from routine matters and seek a satisfying diversion. If you do this you will ward off difficulties which appear to be heading your way. Don't indulge in reckless spending on Friday. is: 4.

GEMINI — (May 21 - June 20) Money-wise the opportunities during this period are unlimited. The right moment will bring enormous gains. And there will be plenty of right moments. Not a good week for pursuing social outlets. Colors to watch are: Yellow and Blue. Lucky number is: 9.

CANCER — (June 21 - July 20): Annoying influences prevail at the moment. Those could affect you in numerous ways and may convert minor incidents into major upheavals. To hold back stress and strain you should keep to yourself as much as circumstances will permit. Choose your own colors. Best numbers: 1.

LEO — (July 21 - August 22): A very good week for most Leos. But there could be a few trouble spots. Don't accept anything said or promised without some reservations. Otherwise you may be disappointed. Be especially wary of strangers who are free with flattery. Best shade: Dark red. Recommended number: 6.

VIRGO — (August 23 - September 22): If you feel you are going around in circles and achieving very little, you could be right, and this is your opportunity to put things in order. A clear-headed and determined effort to advance forward will be well-recompensed. Act now. Favored shade: Blue. Lucky number: 2.

LIBRA — (September 23 - October 22): A gay week ahead in which you should widen your circle of friends and find an exciting new way of life opening its doors to you. One note of warning, however, it is not advisable to enter into any binding agreements at the moment. Best colors: Mauve. Best number: 9.

SCORPIO — (October 23 - November 21): An unusual offer may be made to you towards the middle of this week. It could well be the big chance you have been waiting for. SAGITTARIUS — (November 22 - December 22): A week in which you will find that two heads are definitely better than one. The assistance of another person to help solve your immediate problems will clear a way for bigger and better things. Recommended colors are: Grey and Green. Numbers to watch closely: 2 and 4.

CAPRICORN — (December 23 - January 20): The tide should turn in your favor this week. Financial problems will fade and opportunities for advancement will be plentiful. Friendships and old romances will blossom anew. An exciting week from every aspect. There are no colour preferences. 4 is the best number.

AQUARIUS — (January 21 - February 18): By applying yourself exclusively to the job in hand, you could make big strides this week. It is a very progressive period, but you will need to work hard to gain full benefits. Don't let others fritter away your time. Best colors Mauve. Recommended number is: 1.

PISCES — (February 19 - March 20): Certain changes may be forced upon you during this period. These may not be to your liking. But from the long-distance point of view, they should be very advantageous. A gay social interlude is forecast for the evening hour of Friday. Favored Shade: Blue Lucky number is: 7.

Schoolboys on 12 charges

Two Altona schoolboys appeared in Williamstown Children's Court last Friday, on 12 charges of housebreaking in Altona.

The boys had broken into various homes in Altona and stolen small amounts of cash totalling $75.

One boy was sentenced to 10 months at a youth training centre and the other was sent back to the Social Welfare Department as a ward of the State.

The boys were reported to Altona police by the parent of another schoolboy who was home from school when the two boys attempted to enter his parents' home, on Tuesday last week.

Lions speaker

Larry Noye can always be counted on to bring an interesting speaker to the Altona Lions Club.

Larry has introduced a variety of speakers to the club — a judge, a historian, a sea captain and a former member of the Seekers singing group are just a few of his recent selections.

Coming from different walks of life, the speakers had one thing in common — the ability to entertain a large group of people.

The Altona Lions Club would like to offer its recognition and appreciation of Larry's many years contribution.

Racing image for new Torana

A new "image" version of the popular 1300 and overhead cam 1600 cc four cylinder Torana models — the Trans - Am — has just been announced by Melbourne GM - H dealer Garry and Warren Smith.

The firm, which was recently in the news for creating the world's first nine-seater, six-door Holden Kingswood, has designed the Torana Trans-Am in three stages to appeal to young buyers who wish to retain economy-car running expenses and low insurance rates.

Stage one is an exterior dress-up package. It consists of Torana XU-1 black paint treatment to body sills, window surrounds and the tail panel, an XU-1 rear "spoiler" wing and twin black bonnet stripes.

A free-flow silencer is fitted to improve engine breathing. The cost of this conversion is an all-inclusive $150 above the retail prices of the Torana "four" models.

Stage two of the Trans-Am is an interior dress-up kit consisting of a sports-type wood or leather-rimmed steering wheel and a rev. counter.

Stage three is related to performance modifications from a mild street tune to full rally or race preparation.

The cost of these final two stages depends entirely on the equipment ordered. As a result, each car can be individually tailored in specification.

In addition to the above modifications, Garry and Warren Smith can arrange a mag. wheel and radial ply tyre changeover service for the standard Torana steel wheels and cross-ply tyres at lower than normal retail cost.

Similar "Trans-Am" modifications can be made to six cylinder Torana models while the firm is developing a full range of "image" conversions for Holden models from Belmont to Premier in any engine, transmission and trim combination.

• The new "image" of the Torana. Designed by Garry & Warren Smith.

AMI TOPS THE 250,000 MARK

Australian Motor Industries has assembled its quarter-millionth car, a Toyota Crown, since the company's plant at Port Melbourne was established in 1952.

AMI, the only major Australian owned motor producer in the Commonwealth, has a history dating back to 1929 when Standard Cars started trading in Victoria and New South Wales.

Over the years, vast numbers of cars, commercial vehicles and tractors have been marketed by them in Australia.

From the early Standard-Triumph beginnings, makes such as Ferguson, Fiat, Zetor and Muir-Hill tractors, Mercedes-Benz cars and trucks, have issued through AMI's gates and the total number of vehicles handled is well over the 350,000 mark.

Today, AMI assembling a grand total of and market Toyota 357,440. Triumph and Rambler cars, Zetor tractors from Czechoslovakia and Muir-Hill tractors, industrial equipment and earth-moving machinery from England.

In addition to the vehicles assembled, 107,440 have been fully imported since 1952, making a grand total of 464,880.

When the 250,000th assembled car came off the production lines at the 25-Hill Street plant this week, AMI managing director, Mr. K. R. Hougham, said: "My confidence in Toyota's future in Australia is such that I am sure the half-million mark will be achieved in an even shorter time."

The local scene has been fairly quiet lately, with the promoters of the Werribee and Altona dances taking a holiday.

But not to worry because the Thursday night discotheque dance at the Tarmac Hotel has really taken on with recent appearances by Blackfeather, Levi Smith Clefs and British pop group Clockwork Strawberry. And, of course, there are the topless go-go girls.

Spastic workers' thanks

Altona Council has received a letter of appreciation from the Altona Spastic Aid Committee, for its further donation of $100 to help the committee in its work.

Committee member Mrs. Linda Qakes wrote: "It is my privilege to say a big thank you for yet a further donation of $100 to help us in our work for those not as fortunate as ourselves.

"Our committee was formed in 1959 and our main objective was to raise finance to help support the Chis-Lon Spastic Centre in Bell Street, Seddon, where our local spastic children and adults attend daily.

"We are now in our 13th year, and as our name signifies, we give immediate spastic aid to our local spastic children and adults.

"So on our behalf and all who will benefit from your donation, once again, thanks."

"NO DANGER" FROM OIL BLAZE

Flames from a fire at P.R.A.'s Altona Refinery reached 20 feet in the air last week.

The fire was caused by a leak in the refinery's southern crude pump.

The fire was put out within 15 minutes and Mr. Frank De La Rue, personnel officer with P.R.A. says that there was no danger from the fire.

Cr. Jack Byron says, "That is not the point." "This is just not good enough."

"There was not only the danger from the flames but from the smoke. Asphyxiation is always the greater danger with a fire."

Cr. Byron says that he believes that Wiltona's close proximity to the refinery is a deliberate plot by the Federal Government.

"They put out newly arrived migrants in beautiful houses so that they can see how good the standard of building is in Australia."

"And they place them next to a stinky, smelly refinery so that they will say the minimum period of time."

Cr. Byron said that he wasn't concerned with assurances — by the oil refinery that the residents in the area were safe from fire and other dangers.

"I know that they have had other fires. They are masters of the cover up."

Cr. Byron said that the refineries should move to an area free from residences.

"If they want to blow one another up then that is their bad luck but I don't see why we should be forced to have that danger."

"I don't want an oil industry in Williamstown it is not part of the character which is Williamstown."

Mr. Norman Fargher, house manager at Wiltona said that the fire had not reached within 200 yards of the Hostel.

"Of course I had my work cut out keeping people away — but most seemed to treat it as a bit of a joke," he said.

Mr. Fargher said that he did not believe that the hostel had been in danger from the fire.

Six fire appliances from Newport, Footscray, Spotswood and Altona attended the fire.

The last appliance left after 50 minutes.

Eastern Hill fire station described the fire as "a quantity of oil burning."

Cr. Byron says that he will request a full report on the fire at the next council meeting.

More bombs uncovered

Two more mortar bombs have been recovered off Williamstown's Shelly Beach.

This makes four found at the beach within the past two months.

Williamstown's historian, Mr. Wilson Evans, told the Advertiser, he found two mortar bombs at the beach while looking for fossils.

He said he believed one of them could still have been alive, as he thought it still had a priming pin. He called army demolition experts who took the bombs away.

Mr. Evans said two small boys turned two bombs in to the Municipal Museum about seven weeks ago.

He warned that as the sea bottom was being eroded away more bombs could be uncovered.

They could be dangerous, especially as many skin divers used the area.

He said Fort Gellibrand was used as a proof range during World War II and thousands of bombs had been fired in to the sea off Shelly Beach.

Several mortar bombs were recovered off the Williamstown football ground in 1959.

A Navy Mobile Clearance Division team was brought from Sydney to search the area and recovered 23 bombs.

ESTATE AGENT REPLIES TO THE EDITOR

Mr. — Councillor Byron remarks in the recent issue of your paper to the effect that "Real Estate Agents are trying to steal the march on ratepayers of the city" calls for comment.

In the context of his other remarks this statement infers that estate agents are not to be trusted and their actions are harmful to the citizens of Williamstown.

No evidence or examples are brought forward to illustrate Cr. Byron's thoughts on estate agents. In fact, his statement reads like an appeal to people's emotions and not to their reason.

Does Cr. Byron intend to use estate agents and developers as scapegoats to justify the hasty proclamation of the new development scheme of Williamstown?

Working for an estate agent in the City of Williamstown might I state that I cannot see how an estate agent can "steal the march on the ratepayers of the city."

(Whatever this phrase is taken to mean). Basically, estate agents are engaged by individual ratepayers or property owners to sell property on an open market to the highest bidder.

We are duty bound to endeavor to get the best price available for the vendors who engage us no matter whether the purchaser by a developer or a private home seeker.

There is nothing really involved or sinister about this. However, should Cr. Byron feel an estate agent has violated the code of ethics governing most agents, there is an effective recourse available.

All he has to do is to dial 63 0321, state his case to the Real Estate Agents Registrar and an investigator will be out to see him within a few days.

If he is unwilling to do this and instead continues to issue derogatory remarks devoid of facts against estate agents, his unfitness to occupy an important public post in the City of Williamstown must become apparent to all.

— Yours &c.,
Keith McEwan,
147 Ferguson Street.

Other office bearers are: Vice president Mr. John Patterson JP of Williams-town; immediate past president, Cr. C. Carlsson, JP of Altona; secretary, Mr. Ralph Guy, JP, of Sunshine; treasurer, Mr. Vin O'Donnell, BEM, JP of Sunshine; Justices Committee: Mrs. A. Fletcher, MBE, JP, Messrs. R. I. Guy, S. Hayes, Sita, L. R. Hodge, Jurga V. O'Donnell, Cr. C. Carlsson and Cr. G. Cruickshank.

VIKINGS CRUSH WEST ... AND A HOODOO

Altona City Football Club's senior team had a crushing win over West Newport on Saturday and in so doing, knocked out a supposed hoodoo on West's oval.

The closest to winning on this oval in the club's history was a draw, played last season.

Altona City 17, 9-111
W. Newport 4, 9-33

Saturday's win was most important to the morale of the team.

this, they had been playing some very ordinary football. The settling down of the backline into some of its earlier construction has revitalised the team.

Vic Pateras is the best full-back in Altona, and even though he is an inspiring player around the ground, he is of greater value at full-back to the team as a whole.

On Saturday the Vikings could afford to give Vic a run on the ball, and did he take advantage of it! His high marks were electrifying.

Another luxury on Saturday was being able to play the in-form centre half-forward, Darby Munro, on a half-forward flank.

He contributed effectively throughout the game and filled a gaping hole most effectively.

The windy conditions did not lend themselves to a really good game.

But the Vikings overcame this difficulty and turned on some of the prettiest teamwork ever seen, especially in the second half.

The most adept artful dodger on Saturday was the fleetest foot of all, Glen Morgan.

He turned in a sizzling game and capped his dazzling performance with some perfect foot passing.

Viking king, Murray Crump, had no peer in ball getting and damaging, non-stop effectiveness.

Vic Pateras was great whether at full-back or on the ball. Enzo Valentino gave a ton of drive from the half-forward flank and Danny Brennan was unbeatable at centre half-back.

Gordon Wilson and Stephen Chaffield shared the roving honors evenly and with note, while Del York palmed the ball with perfection.

Goals: S. Chaffield 4, G. Munro 3, R. Schwabe, E. Valenti, G. Wilson, G. Morgan, G. Swan, Morrie Tisdale, M. Crump.

Altona City 25, 22-172
Laverton . . 3, 2-20

It was a one-sided match, but there could be no excuse for the way some players applied themselves in the first half. A blistering half-time roast from coach Bill Devereaux snapped them into gear, however, and the approach in the second half was a big improvement.

Little more can be said of the game, except that some performances on the day were very reassuring.

Tom Hogan showed a welcome return to form, putting in 100 minutes of match-winning effort all over the ground.

Bill Devereaux controlled the game from the pivot, bringing team mates into the play and driving his side into attack continually.

Old-stager John Neal performed admirably on half-back flank, marking strongly and talking it up no end.

Mike Calaz did all that was required of him at full forward, marking safely and ever ready for handball.

Those he didn't give to a team mate he got himself, with a fine tally of 11 majors for the day.

Kevin Flett was busy all day, never shirking the issue, and kicking up a ton of kicks. He was well supported by Ian Hardham and Steve Grainger.

Denis Boyle never stopped trying all day and the elusive pimpernel, Mo Oram, contributed grandly many times.

John Male was an astute defender and showed obvious enjoyment when given a run on the ball.

Goals: M. Calaz 11, K. Flett 3, P. Thompson, S. Grainger, W. Devereaux, I. Hardham, Berry, Boyle.

Altona City 11, 14-80
Laverton . . 1, 2-8

The lads combined well as a team and the odd smattering of individual brilliance inspired the Vikings and helped them to produce some intelligent football under bad conditions.

Next week is the last of the home and home games and the Vikings play Williamstown Fourths, at Williamstown.

The game will be a prelude to the second semi, when the same sides will meet.

Saturday's best: A. Donnelly, W. Jones, G. Knight, D. Hyett, S. Parkin, P. Mildenhall, T. Sarros.

Goals: A. Donnelly 7, A. Papone 3, G. Clarke.

Championship complete

Last Sunday saw the climax of the Altona Tennis Club's championships for 1972. Reigning A grade champions, Ron Graham and Helen Shields retained their titles with great victories over Wayne Thomas and Leslie Hyde respectively.

Graham defeated Thomas in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, but by no means was it an easy win. From the outset, last year's champion applied great pressure with an array of perfectly timed forehand drives and cross-court backhands.

However, Thomas was returning some seemingly impossible shots and at one stage it appeared that he might get a break on his opponent. But this was not to be. Using his greater experience, Graham started to use a variety of shots which seemed to rattle his opponent and eventually ran out the winner.

Helen Shields also had a straight sets victory in the ladies' A singles. The first set between her and Leslie Hyde saw some crowd pleasing rallies, but it was Shields' stronger driving which enabled her to get on top in this set and take it out 6-4. In the second set Helen unleashed some power packed shots which left Leslie floundering and took it 6-1.

Other winners for the day were:—A Men's Doubles — Wayne Thomas and Des Murphy. A Ladies' Doubles — E. Gordon and A. Twentymann. A Mixed Doubles — G. Wood and S. Keown. B Men's Singles — D. Murphy. B Ladies' Singles — A. Findlay and M. Gilson. B Mixed Doubles — Dan Murphy and J. Burke. U-16 Boy's Singles — S. Whitecross. U-16 Girl's Singles — S. Jeffrey. U-16 Boy's Doubles — S. and G. Whitecross. U-16 Girl's Doubles — W. Jeffs and R. Smiths. U-16 Mixed — S. Whitecross and Y. Robertson. B Ladies' Doubles — M. Keown and L. Stracey. U-14 Boy's Singles — A. Findlay. U-14 Girl's Singles — J. Stracey. U-12 Girl's Singles — L. Dryden.

Centrals safe for finals

Altona Centrals — fourth on the ladder — assured themselves of a finals berth by beating the second team, Newport, at Langshaws Reserve on Saturday.

CENTRALS 10 16 76
NEWPORT 7 17 59

Centrals continued to show the determination and teamwork which have been the highlights of their recent matches.

They looked winners all day. Jim Cargill contested well from the first bounce, picking up many knockouts and kicks around the ground.

At centre half-forward Ron Smerley marked well and played to the front, throughout the match.

Bill Kennedy was a winner for Centrals, on the half-back flank and Larry Thwaites, at centre half-back was cool in a crises, clearing the ball many times.

In the roving division, Jeff Lott and Mark Ivory dominated.

This duo created many opportunities for Centrals' forwards, in a display of unselfish football.

In his ruck-roving role, Lindsay Crosswell also did well, backing up his teammates to perfection.

Goals: R. Smutney, J. Lott 2; M. Ivory, L. Crosswell, R. Code, K. Gilchrist, R. Johnston, D. Robinson.

B DIVISION
BROOKLYN 12 19 91
CENTRALS 12 11 83

In a great game, the B division Centrals topped off a good season with a great last quarter, to just miss taking the honors from Brooklyn.

If "Musa" Rogash and "Gill" had worn the right boots, the final score may have been different.

It has been a great season and coach Murray Sayers can be well satisfied with the efforts of his younger players.

Barry and Ray Meddings, and Chris Carroll, are definite senior material. They turned in good displays again on Saturday.

Laurie Cook was always as usual — dangerous around the goals and proved it by raising two flags five times during the match.

Ron Patterson and Tom Zapadito held the back line tight all day.
Murray Rogash, in the ruck, gave his usual non-tiring effort and is a greatly improved player.
Goals: L. Cooke 5; J. Campbell, A. Dean 2; B. Height, T. Jepson, K. Gilchrist.

Twice as good

Last weekend's round of Western Suburban Football League fixtures proved one of the most one-sided events for the season.

The winners won well and the losers lost miserably.

The average of the winning scores was 110 points and the average for the losers was 51 points. That makes the victors appear better than twice as good as the defeated.

The ups and the downs

Williamstown experienced mixed fortunes in last weekend's round of A grade lacrosse matches.

Fearons had a decisive victory over Chadstone, but City were slightly unlucky and went down to Surrey Park.

Congratulations are extended to senior State captain, G. Gamsworthy, on gaining All-Australian selection, at the recent Perth carnival.

Also to D. Wilkinson, M. Gregson, and R. Higgins, who have been named in the junior State team to play in the Adelaide championships.

The A grade senior finals are looming and the fight is becoming more even after each round. But the Malvern Blacks still appear the main threat to Fearons claims on the pennant.
